DECLARATION OF JOHN A. MACORETTA
IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO COMPEL THE TESTIMONY OF
PATRICIA KAY MORGAN OF FIRST DATABANK

John A. Macoretta declares as follows:

1. I am a senior associate of the firm of Spector, Roseman & Kodroff, P.C., co-lead counsel for the class action plaintiffs in this litigation. I have been admitted to practice before this Court pro hac vice. I am submitting this declaration of my own personal knowledge in response to Defendants' Motion to Enforce the Subpoena for, and to Compel the Deposition of Patricia Kay Morgan.
2. Defendants' Counsel, Saul P. Morgenstern, in his Declaration in Support of Defendants' Motion to Enforce the Subpoena for, and to Compel the Deposition of Patricia Kay Morgan ("Morgenstern Declaration") ¶ 8, states that counsel for Ms. Morgan and First DataBank ("FDB") represented, in a "meet and confer" conference call subsequent to March 26, "that FDB's document production would be completed by some time in June 2004."
3. However FDB still has not completed its document production. FDB's counsel continues to be in ongoing discussions with plaintiffs' counsel regarding documents yet to be produced. As set forth in plaintiffs' counsel's July 26, 2004 correspondence to John Kern, Esquire, outside counsel for FDB and Ms. Morgan (the "July 26 Letter"), there is a significant amount of highly relevant requested documents – directly relating to AWP's and Ms. Morgan – that FDB still needs to produce to plaintiffs. A true and correct copy of the July 26 Letter is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

4. Plaintiffs served FDB with a Subpoena for documents on or about October 16, 2003. A true and correct copy of said Subpoena is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

5. FDB first produced some of the requested documents on or about January 15, 2004 and February 27, 2004, as set forth in cover letters from John P. Kern to John A. Macoretta of the same dates. A true and correct copy of each of these letters is attached hereto as Exhibits C and D, respectively.

8. As an initial matter, it was noted that some of the documents produced on the aforementioned dates are illegible and others were missing significant attachments. Additionally, FDB produced deposition transcripts – including transcripts of testimony by Ms. Morgan – that did not have the exhibits attached. Plaintiffs requested this information from FDB by way of correspondence dated March 9, 2004, from Rachel Kopp to John P. Kern. A true and correct copy of this letter is attached hereto as Exhibit E.

9. FDB produced some additional requested documents on or about May 26, 2004, as set forth in a cover letter from John P. Kern. A true and correct copy of this letter is attached hereto as Exhibit F. However, once again the production was far from complete.

10. To date, plaintiffs have reviewed 7 boxes of paper documents produced by FDB plus 17 transcripts of prior testimony of FDB employees. It was only through this review that plaintiffs discovered the identity and existence of many of the documents FDB has not produced.

11. FDB also produced CD-Roms, purportedly of its database, on or about February

27, 2004. See Exhibit D. Plaintiffs' counsel, including the undersigned, and information technology personnel, were able to access loading instructions only, and not the actual database, from the CD-Roms. Ultimately, FDB conceded that these CD-Roms did not contain its database of published AWP's and WACs.

12. On or about June 25, 2004 plaintiffs' counsel, including the undersigned, participated in a conference call with John Kern and in-house counsel for FDB, Robert Hawley, regarding outstanding FDB documents. Plaintiffs reiterated that there were requested documents they had not yet received. Mr. Kern stated FDB was still searching through depositories for additional manufacturer files, through a databank regarding customer contacts, and that FDB would produce the documents retrieved from those forums within "the next three weeks." Additionally, plaintiffs requested information on how to access the CD-Roms. Mr. Kern stated he would get back to plaintiffs by the middle of the following week in relation to the complete electronic database that plaintiffs need, which Mr. Kern claimed plaintiffs had in their possession but just were not able to access.

13. Plaintiffs' counsel sent correspondence dated July 1, 2004 to Mr. Kern asking FDB to provide plaintiffs with the name of someone who could explain what is on the CD-Roms and how plaintiffs can access them. Plaintiffs also once again specifically requested certain documents that were not yet produced. Additionally, plaintiffs reiterated their request for the missing and illegible documents set forth in Ms. Kopp's letter of March 9, 2004. A true and correct copy of the July 1, 2004, letter is attached hereto as Exhibit G.

14. Plaintiffs' counsel, including the undersigned, had a meet and confer phone conference with John Kern on July 21, 2004, regarding the outstanding FDB documents. Mr.

Kern acknowledged at that time, after having spoken with pertinent personnel at FDB, that the CD-Roms produced to plaintiffs did not have the database on them. Mr. Kern stated he would get back to plaintiffs' counsel by July 26, 2004, regarding the database issue. Mr. Kern and plaintiffs' counsel also discussed the scope of documents that still need to be produced by FDB.

15. Plaintiffs' counsel followed up the July 21 conversation with the July 26 Letter, setting forth documents FDB had not yet produced. See Exhibit A. Additionally, as a month had passed since the June 25 conversation--at which time Mr. Kern had stated plaintiffs would be receiving additional documents within three weeks--plaintiffs reiterated their request for these documents.

16. John Kern spoke with plaintiffs' counsel, including the undersigned, July 26, 2004, to say he was working on the databank information and that there had been a delay in getting the "right people" from whom to obtain the information.

17. Mr. Kern informed plaintiffs' counsel, by way of e-mail dated July 27, 2004, that he would be able to get plaintiffs some of the database information "in short order," but there were hurdles to overcome regarding some of the other requested database information. Additionally, Mr. Kern stated he would follow-up with plaintiffs "later this week" regarding the other outstanding document issues. A true and correct copy of the July 27, 2004, e-mail is attached hereto as Exhibit H.

18. Plaintiffs' counsel did not hear from Mr. Kern "later this week," as had been promised; plaintiffs' counsel, including the undersigned, spoke with Mr. Kern on August 5, 2004, regarding the outstanding documents requested and discussed the means to obtain the database. Mr. Kern also averred that FDB is still in the process of searching for many of the documents requested but not yet produced.

19. As of the instant date, plaintiffs' counsel is awaiting a call from Mr. Kern regarding the logistics of obtaining the database and the potential cost.

20. As set forth in this declaration, there is an abundance of documents still outstanding that FDB needs to produce to plaintiffs, in addition to FDB's full database of published prices. The additional documents include survey documents which FDB claims it used in determining published prices, monthly publications such as "Monthly Interest," "Technical Newsletter" and "Medicaid Faxes" as well as documents directly relating to how AWP's are published. Plaintiffs are also still waiting for documents concerning "Problem Ticket Profiles" which relate to questions about drug prices. In addition, FDB has yet to fully produce all of its documents on its pricing policies, training and user manuals, which all relate to how FDB publishes AWP's.

21. Finally, FDB has not yet produced documents directly relating to Ms. Morgan. For example, Ms. Morgan provided previous testimony in other litigations. While FDB has provide the transcripts, it has not yet produced all the documents used as exhibits. Further, FDB has failed to provide all of Ms. Morgan's emails and their attachments.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Re: In re Pharmaceutical Industry Average Wholesale Price Litigation
Missing and Necessary Documents from First DataBank, Inc.

Dear John:

As discussed in our phone conversation of June 21, 2004, regarding outstanding First DataBank documents, I am writing with an updated list of specific documents to be produced.

We have not received any of the Blue Books, which we are aware First DataBank stopped publishing in or about 1996. We need any and all Blue Books from 1991 through the last publication date.

We have received just a few documents noting survey results. The few documents we have are handwritten grids. We would like to receive all the other survey documents First DataBank has, from 1991 through the present.

We have received only one or two issues of First DataBank's Monthly Interest publication, a publication First DataBank produces for its customers. We need to receive any and all of these Monthly Interest publications for the time period at issue, including but not limited to an issue containing an article by Diane McClaran (possibly in or around the fall of 2000) regarding price calculation.

We have not received any other customer service publications geared towards customers and need to obtain any and all First DataBank has published for the time period, including but not limited to the following four fax newsletters to customers: "Technical Newsletter," "Medicaid Faxes," "Editorial Facts" and "Clinical Facts."

We also have not received any hard copies of PriceProbe or PricePoint; I realize that you are attempting to produce the same in electronic form. We would like to receive any and all PriceProbe and PricePoint publications that do not overlap with what you will be providing in electronic form. Furthermore, please produce any and all PriceProbe and PricePoint essays and editorials for the time period at issue.

First DataBank has produced just a handful of Problem Ticket Profiles, Problem Ticket Reports and/or PACTs printouts. Kindly produce any and all Problem Ticket Profiles, Problem Ticket Reports and/or PACTs printouts for any and all drugs at issue, from 1991 to the present.

Kindly produce computer printouts or related documents indicating which companies and/or NDCs are designated as "S," "one times S" and/or "one S" companies, and any changes made over the years for individual manufacturers and/or NDCs regarding these designations, from 1991 to the present.

First DataBank also produced just one editorial department policy manual and one customer service department policy manual. Please provide any and all editorial/knowledge based services, customer service and global government service manuals, for the time period at issue. Additionally, please produce any other departmental or company-wide manuals that refer to pricing, for the time period at issue.

Additionally, we have not received any of the missing documents set forth in the March 9, 2004, letter to you from Rachel Kopp, Esquire. Per your July 21 request, I am attaching another copy of Ms. Kopp's letter for your review. I trust we will receive these documents this week, as almost five months have passed since this initial request for these documents.

I also am enclosing a copy of my July 1, 2004, letter, per your request. As set forth therein, First DataBank produced some letters to us that reference other letters that we do not have. Specifically, a May 30, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04994-4995, references letters dated May 16, 2002 and May 24, 2002; a July 9, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04992-4993, references a June 7, 2002 letter. We do not have the May 16, July 9 or June 7 letters. Kindly produce them as soon as possible.

We also discussed in our June 25 conference call, as well as the July 1 letter, that we would like any documents related to the conference calls and other meetings, etc., set forth in Kay Morgan's 2002 e-mail, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP12654-12655. This would include interoffice memoranda, correspondence and/or minutes of the meetings or calls.

Additionally, we have requested any and all interoffice and other memoranda, notes, correspondence, etc., regarding any changes, potential changes or contemplated changes in pricing policy. Likewise, please provide us with any and all notes of conversations, meetings, correspondence, e-mails, etc., First DataBank has had with the other compendia, including but not limited to Red Book, Medi-Span and Facts and Comparisons, regarding any changes, potential changes or contemplated changes in pricing policy.

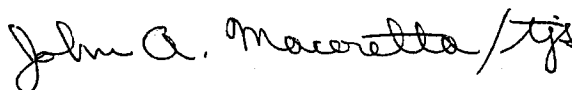

As we mentioned in our July 1 correspondence, First DataBank has produced some NDDF and MDDB user manuals and/or training manuals from different dates, but we do not seem to have full sets for the various years. You stated that there are manuals from 1998, 1999, 2002 and 2003, but none from 2000 and 2001. You did not mention any earlier years. You requested that we review the produced documents to see what years or portions thereof are missing. We have not had the chance to do the same since last Wednesday's phone call, but we will review the documents and get back to you shortly. Additionally, we would appreciate it if you could obtain the information regarding in what years First DataBank published training manuals and in what years First DataBank published user manuals.

You stated in our June 25 conference call that First DataBank was searching through various depositories for manufacturer files, a databank regarding customer contacts, and the like regarding documents not produced to date, in relation to all the drugs at issue. At that time, you stated that we would receive those documents within "the next three weeks." More than four weeks have passed since that conversation, yet we have not received any of these documents. Please let us know when we can expect to receive the documents.

Finally, you stated we would hear from you today regarding the CD-Roms and numerous other requests. We look forward to speaking with you today regarding the same. Additionally, kindly advise us at that time when we can expect any outstanding documents.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Re: In re Pharmaceutical Industry Average Wholesale Price Litigation
Missing and Necessary Documents from First DataBank, Inc.

Dear John:

I am writing in follow-up to the June 25, 2004, conference call regarding outstanding First DataBank documents. At that time you stated you would be in touch with us mid-week in relation to the complete electronic database that we need. Tali Segal, Esquire, left you a message regarding the same earlier today.

You have stated that First DataBank has provided the database to us; as we informed you, if it is in our possession, we are not able to read it. Accordingly, please provide us promptly with the name of the person with whom we need to speak regarding what we have and how we can access it.

Additionally, we have not received any of the missing documents set forth in the March 9, 2004, letter to you from Rachel Kopp, Esquire. I am attaching a copy of Ms. Kopp's letter for your review. We would like the itemized documents as soon as possible.

First DataBank produced some letters to us that reference other letters that we do not have. Specifically, a May 30, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04994-4995, references letters dated May 16, 2002 and May 24, 2002; a July 9, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04992-4993, references a June 7, 2002 letter. We do not have the May 16, July 9 or June 7 letters. Kindly produce them as soon as possible.

First DataBank produced some NDDF and MDDB user manuals and/or training manuals from different dates, but we do not seem to have full sets for the various years. Please provide the full sets.

We also discussed in last week's conference call that we would like any documents related to the conference calls and other meetings, etc., set forth in Kay Morgan's 2002 e-mail, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP12654-12655. This would include interoffice memoranda, correspondence and/or minutes of the meetings or calls.

Likewise, please provide us with any and all notes of conversations, meetings, correspondence, e-mails, etc., FDB had with the other compendia, including but not limited to Red Book, Medi-Span and Facts and Comparisons, regarding any changes, potential changes or contemplated changes in pricing policy.

We would appreciate hearing from you promptly regarding the electronic database. Additionally, please advise us as to when we can expect the documents set forth above.

Thank you.

Missing Documents from First DataBank, Inc.

Dear Mr. Kern:

A review of the documents you recently produced, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP 01823 through FDB-AWP 15491, indicated the following missing pages: FDB-AWP 13218 through FDB-AWP 13295. Please provide copies of these documents.

Additionally, we have identified various documents and exhibits from the deposition transcripts provided by First DataBank that were not included in your earlier production. Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Parts C & D:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2)(A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying of designated books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to inspection or copying of any or all of the designated materials or of the premises. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect and copy the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production. Such an order to compel production shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection and copying commanded.

(3)(A) On a timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend a trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held, or

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected materials and no exception or waiver applies, or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specified events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance and production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA.

(1) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(2) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

Re: In re Pharmaceutical Industry Average Wholesale Price Litigation
Missing and Necessary Documents from First DataBank, Inc.

Dear John:

I am writing in follow-up to the June 25, 2004, conference call regarding outstanding First DataBank documents. At that time you stated you would be in touch with us mid-week in relation to the complete electronic database that we need. Tali Segal, Esquire, left you a message regarding the same earlier today.

You have stated that First DataBank has provided the database to us; as we informed you, if it is in our possession, we are not able to read it. Accordingly, please provide us promptly with the name of the person with whom we need to speak regarding what we have and how we can access it.

Additionally, we have not received any of the missing documents set forth in the March 9, 2004, letter to you from Rachel Kopp, Esquire. I am attaching a copy of Ms. Kopp's letter for your review. We would like the itemized documents as soon as possible.

First DataBank produced some letters to us that reference other letters that we do not have. Specifically, a May 30, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04994-4995, references letters dated May 16, 2002 and May 24, 2002; a July 9, 2002, letter from Hearst's general counsel's office, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP04992-4993, references a June 7, 2002 letter. We do not have the May 16, July 9 or June 7 letters. Kindly produce them as soon as possible.

First DataBank produced some NDDF and MDDDB user manuals and/or training manuals from different dates, but we do not seem to have full sets for the various years. Please provide the full sets.

We also discussed in last week's conference call that we would like any documents related to the conference calls and other meetings, etc., set forth in Kay Morgan's 2002 e-mail, Bates-labeled FDB-AWP12654-12655. This would include interoffice memoranda, correspondence and/or minutes of the meetings or calls.

Additionally, please provide us with any and all interoffice and other memoranda, notes, correspondence, etc., regarding any changes, potential changes or contemplated changes in pricing policy. Likewise, please provide us with any and all notes of conversations, meetings, correspondence, e-mails, etc., FDB had with the other compendia, including but not limited to Red Book, Medi-Span and Facts and Comparisons, regarding any changes, potential changes or contemplated changes in pricing policy.

We would appreciate hearing from you promptly regarding the electronic database. Additionally, please advise us as to when we can expect the documents set forth above.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Tali and John:

It appears that it is possible for First DataBank to provide annual pricing data (Dec. 31st "snapshots") from the NDDF Plus ("the database"), going back as far as 1996. Retrieving this data so that it can be burned onto a CD-ROM (or seven) will take some effort and some expense (FDB will actually have to write a program to accomplish this), but we should be able to get it to you in short order.

There remain two significant hurdles:

1. The data on the CD-ROMs that we intend to produce is so voluminous, that it probably cannot be accessed on a standard PC. You might need special software to access it, or you might need to hire technical consultants to assist you in downloading the data to a readable form. We are checking with our I.T. personnel assist you in determining what you will need to access the data. We will give you as much information as we reasonably can to determine how to access the data. Ultimately, however, you may need the assistance of technical personnel on your end.
2. FDB will incur certain expenses collecting and storing this data for you, and the data we are providing has substantial commercial value. FDB expects to be reasonably compensated. We do not anticipate that the costs associated with the programming, collection and storage of the data will be substantial (perhaps around $1000). The commercial value of the data you are seeking, by contrast, is quite high. We are discussing internally how to value the 7 years worth of pricing data (at a discount to you -- the normal price to our customers would be over $140,000 for this data), and at some point soon, we should have a conference call to discuss. In the meantime, I wanted to alert you to this issue, so that you could discuss with your co-counsel and opposing counsel how you might handle this issue. (e.g., coordinate with defendants to share costs?). I would request that you refrain from discussing any hard numbers with others, until I can discuss further with my client a reasonable discounted price).

I am aware that there remain other outstanding document issues (set forth in your meet and confer letters), and I will follow-up with you on these later this week. I look forward to continuing to work cooperatively with you to produce any documents to which you are entitled.

Feel free to call anytime.

John
